THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1893.

MR. PATTERSON HONORED AT A BANQUET

A number of the citizens of Qu'Appelle assembled at the Queen's Hotel on Thursday evening last for the purpose of doing honor to Mr.
A. C. Patterson prior to his final departure for North Portal. The banquet took the form of a banquet, and amongst those present were the following:—Mr. G. S. Davidson, M.L.A., Dr. Bell, Dr. Cartwright, Mr.
A. M. McLane, Mr. J. A. Cowan, Mr. H. Gibson, Mr. W. S. Redpath, Mr. W. B. Sheppard, Mr.
F. W. Manlove, Mr. J. W. Man-love, Mr. W. Smith, Mr. J. M.
Donald, Mr. J. P. Beauchamp, Mr.
J. Creamer, Mr. E. W. Warner, Mr.
A. D. Dickson, Mr. R. L. Lascelle, Mr. J. H. MacGurk, Mr. B. Harvey, Mr. J. H. Fraser, Mr. A. Hollingshead, Mr. R. T. Haggard, Mr. Wm. pegg, Mr. A. W. McDonald, & Flaming.

Messrs. Whiffin and Barnes fully sustained their reputation as first class caterers, and after the ample spread had been laid out, the speeches were made by Mr. Patterson, Mr. Davidson, Mr. Cowan, Mr. Redpath, Mr. Sheppard, Mr. Manlove, Mr. Smith, Mr. Donald, Mr. Beauchamp, Mr. Creamer, Mr. Warner, Mr. Dickson, Mr. Lascelle, Mr. MacGurk, Mr. Harvey, Mr. Fraser, Mr. Haggard, Mr. Wm.
Flaming.

In proposing the toast of "Qu'Appelle," Mr. Davidson said that evening it occurred to him that he had filled a similar position about eleven years ago, when the citizens of Palmerston gave a farewell banquet to the same gentleman they were met to honor that evening. On that occasion Mr. Patterson left the town he had resided in for a few years with the good wishes of every citizen, and the same could be said in the present instance. They might have their differences, possibly and otherwise, but they were one in their feelings of regret at the loss of Mr. Patterson, who had been such a good citizen for so long. They met time after time to take leave of those who had occupied prominent positions amongst them, and these occasions had been too frequent, for each one meant the loss of a good substantial citizen. However, new ones were coming in their places, and it was to be hoped they would fill the positions as well as those who were going away. Mr. Davidson said that Mr. Patterson's superior officer, had no doubt had ample opportunity of testing the value of his services, and there was no doubt but that the duties of Mr. Patterson's new position as collector of customs would be discharged in the same manner as those pertaining to the office he had just vacated.

Dr. Bell said he joined in the regret at the departure of Mr.
Patterson. The regret seemed to partake of a two-fold character—they lost the editor of the local paper and they also lost a friend.
During the time Mr. Patterson had been editor of the Progress he had fully maintained his part as a member of the press. What they read had been to the point and represented the honest convictions of the writer. Although to some extent allied with one of the great parties, Mr. Patterson had never forfeited the respect and esteem of those who were politically opposed to him. As a friend, they lost one they had known for a considerable number of years. The speaker said he had been in Qu'Appelle about seven years, and during that time he was proud to say he had enjoyed, and still enjoyed, the friendship of Mr. Patterson. He congratulated him most heartily upon his recent appointment, and felt that he would soon find as many friends where he was going as he left behind. They had not known Mrs. Patterson very long, but they had seen sufficient of her to remember her with kind regard and esteem, and they trusted that she and her husband would enjoy long life, happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Mr. Patterson, in returning thanks for the hearty manner in which he was about to leave a number of good friends. He had some very warm friends in Qu'Appelle, and he assured his hearers that he left the town with considerable regret, but circumstances sometimes compelled them to take a course which was not always the most pleasant from many standpoints. He thanked them all for their great kindness to him ever since he had known them, and also on behalf of Mrs. Patterson for the kind treatment she had received during her short stay in Qu'Appelle. Mr. Patterson said he was not going so far away but what he hoped to return whenever an opportunity presented itself, and when able to leave his duties the first place he would have a strong desire to visit would be Qu'Appelle.

After a song by Mr. Dickson, Mr. Cowan rose and said that, although not given to speech-making he could not allow the occasion to pass without joining in the expressions of regret at Mr. Patterson's departure, for during the ten years of their acquaintance he had had ample opportunity of testing him as a friend, and he had proved himself to be one who could be relied upon.
He wished Mr. and Mrs. Patterson all prosperity.

Mr. A. M. McLane remarked that he was present to pay his respects to Mr. Patterson. He had known him ever since he first came to Qu'Appelle, and had never seen anything in him he could find fault with. As the speaker said, Mr.
Bell had said he had been very successful in his efforts to improve the newspaper, and his articles had always shown that he had the good of the country at heart. The new position Mr. Patterson had been called to would be well and honestly filled, and he carried with him the people's respects who never forgot Dr. Cartwright referred to his early acquaintance with the guest of the evening whilst living in Palmerston.
They came up on the trail together, and had very vivid recollections of his journey, which was now the subject of many a good laugh as they talked over old times. He was sorry Mr. Patterson was leaving the town.

Mr. J. H. Fraser spoke as having enjoyed the friendship of Mr. Paterson from the early days, and whilst it was a pleasure to know that he had been appointed to a better position, it was a pity that his duties should necessitate his removal from amongst them, for old and young alike regretted his departure from their midst. The speaker had known their guest for twelve years; first as a successful bachelor farmer, then as a teacher of the school, and later as a journalist and man of business.
Every movement towards building up the town or country had had Mr. Patterson's support, and he had been a cheerful companion and true friend when one was needed.

The Chairman read a letter from Mr. R. J. Molloy expressing regret at his inability to be present.

Mr. W. B. Sheppard said he was a new comer into this neighborhood and with many who were new to him, but what he had known of Mr. Patterson had impressed him very favorably. He had been fair-dealing and was a first-rate editor.
They were losing a man who had made his mark in this country in a very decided way. He heartily endorsed all that had previously been said, and wished Mr. and Mrs.
Patterson every success in life.

Songs were given by Mr. Harvey and Mr. Beauchamp, the latter gentleman giving one in French.

Mr. Wm. Smith said it seemed to him that our town furnished men for the best positions of honor and trust. It was not long since they parted with Mr. McLane to fill a very responsible position, and now they were met on a similar occasion to take leave of Mr. Patterson. The speaker referred to the guests irreproachable conduct during the years he had known him, and he said let Mr. Patterson go where he would, and let the circumstances be what they might, they had the assurance that he would do his duty faithfully and honestly regardless of fear or favor.

Mr. Redpath then gave a song, and Mr. Gibson, Mr. Warner and Mr. Lascelle, in brief remarks, re-echoed the sentiments of the previous speakers.

Mr. Haggard thought that, although not a resident of Qu'Appelle, there were none had had a better opportunity of testing Mr.
Patterson, and he had found to him everything that was desirable. He was sorry that he was vacating the position he had filled so well, but it was a pleasure to see him advance.
He was sure the residents of Qu'Appelle would suffer by the loss of Mr. Patterson. Mr. Haggard introduced Mr. A. W. McDonald, the newly appointed Assistant Inspector of Weights and Measures.

Mr. MacGurk made humorous reference to his associations with Mr. Patterson, and Mr. Creamer and Mr. Hollingshead followed with a few words. Songs were rendered by Mr. Dickson, Mr. Harvey and Mr. Manlove.

A vote of thanks to the chairman of the evening, proposed by Dr.
Bell, was acknowledged in fitting terms by Mr. Davidson, and Mr.
Patterson having further expressed himself, the proceedings were closed by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem.

MEETING THE MINISTER.

Mr. J. A. Cowan, who was elected a delegate by the Qu'Appelle Liberal-Conservative Association to represent that body to the Hon. Mr.
Foster and confer with him as to proposed reductions in the tariff suggested by residents in this district, went down to meet the Hon. gentleman at Wolseley and travelled back with him from there on Saturday's train. Mr. Cowan found the Minister most willing to listen and attentive to all suggestions made.
Mr. Cowan suggested that a reduc-

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

DESCRIPTION OF THE EXHIBITS FROM THE NORTH-WEST.

Canadian Pavilion,
World's Fair, Oct. 17.

In view of the fact that no comprehensive account of the North-West exhibit as the Fair has yet appeared, the Progress readers will no doubt soon with interest be kept abreast of a visit to each department of the Exposition in which the Territories are represented.

At the outset it may be stated with perfect safety that no foreign country will receive more benefit from its exhibit at the World's Fair than the Dominion of Canada, nor will any province or state have been more favorably advertised before the world than the North-West Territories. To have created the best possible impression it might be claimed that Canada as a Dominion should have made one collective display of all her products. But under the rules of the Fair this was not practicable, and we have therefore, in different buildings, nine separate Canadian exhibits, as follows:—(1) Agriculture, (2) Education, (3) Commerce, (4) Agriculture, (5) Forestry, (6) Manufactures, (7) Agriculture, (8) Industries, (9) Arts, and each has been shown at regular intervals during the Fair, is not included in this description.

As Agriculture is of the first importance to the North-West, I commenced with the Agricultural Pavilion, a building which is crowded with farmers and their wives and sons and daughters from early morning until dark. Here in a liberal space in the main aisle, between Great Britain and France, I found a splendid arrangement of exhibits, over which the welcome word "Canada," in gold letters, shone conspicuously. Facing the excellent displays made by Ontario, Quebec and the Experimental Farms, the domestic steps of a beautiful pavilion contained a display of grain and grasses, which a blue and gold banner overhead announced to be the property of the "Canadian North-West Territories," whose "staple product" is further indicated to be "No. 1 Hard," and who, as a long sign to the left informs many thousands of sight-seers, "Free farms of 160 acres" can still be obtained. So excellent a quality are the North-West grain, and especially the wheat, that the attention of the assembly is at once attracted.
Thousands of bushels, on seeing the North-West grain, are being purchased as it is by hundreds of bushels of barley, maize, etc., count in sheep and prairie cattle, have come to exclaim "Oh, isn't that lovely?"
"What a beautiful exhibit Canada has!"
"Yes, that's Canada! That's Canada! That's just fine!"

Handfuls of our best samples of Red Fife, White Fife, Ladoga and Profile wheat, the Profusion and other varieties of barley, maize and several other kinds of grain, with peas, beans, rye, flax, and tares, are in a position to say what they would be, and could not himself form an idea till the matter was brushed out in Parliament. He expressed himself as delighted with the country. Mr. Cowan left the train at this point, and the Minister continued his journey to Regina.

The same points having been brought before Mr. Foster so often, we feel certain that he will return to Ottawa with the firm belief that there is justice in the demands of the settlers of the North-West Territories, and do his best to lighten the burden of taxation.

The celebrated abyss of Jean Nouvè (Vaulaze) is one of the most interesting in France and perhaps in the world. It is simply a vertical pipe, 3 feet to 12 feet in diameter, running down in the earth to about five hundred feet, where it ends in kind of chamber, from which another abyss obstructed by debris descends for an unknown distance into the bowels of the earth. It is supposed to be the vent of an ancient volcano.

Town & Country Callings.

It has been definitely decided to close the World's Fair at the end of the present month.

Mr. A. McMerran, a former resident of Qu'Appelle, who has been visiting his old friends, returned to Regina on Tuesday.

Mr. Wismer has removed to the premises recently occupied by Mr. Ambler, and will shortly commence business as a butcher.

Mr. W. Curry has purchased a young pedigree shorthorn bull from Mr. R. Johnston, and intends to go more extensively into ranching.

Mr. S. T. Tease arrived from Maple Creek on Sunday last with a carload of twenty-one horses, consisting of three and four-year-old Clydes.

Grand Master Goggin lectured on Masonry on Saturday evening to the brethren assembled in the Masonic Hall, and his efforts were greatly appreciated.

Mr. Blackwood's sale of stock, agricultural implements and household furniture took place at Blackwood on Tuesday last, and, on the whole, resulted satisfactorily.

Mr. John Abbott still remains very weak. Monday's bulletin stated that he was not so well as he was on Saturday. He was slightly feverish, but not in immediate danger.

Mr. Wm. Sides has disposed of one of his Clyde-stud horses, "Young Annie," to Messrs. Smith and Thompson, to be used on the ranch they are now engaged in stocking.

Col. Thompson has been confined to the house for several days with complaints consequent to the contraction of a severe cold. We are pleased to learn, however, that he is now improving.

Mr. S. Erling, who has been threshing the first class crops in his own neighborhood and south reports that he still has another three weeks' work. Crops are A1, varying from thirty-five bushels per acre.

A sale of young thoroughbred Durham, Polled Angus and Holstein bulls and heifers, and English white and Berkshire pigs will be held on the Experimental Farm, Indian Head, on Wednesday, 22nd November. Sale to commence at 1 o'clock p.m.

Mr. William Broley's sale on Friday last was a complete success. His large band of horses found ready sale at good round prices. The demand for cattle was not so good, but on the whole Mr. Broley has every reason to be satisfied. A fine thoroughbred cow was sold to Mr. R. Craig for $60; others running as low as $25.

Mr. R. J. Huggard, Inspector of Weights and Measures, of Winnipeg, was in town for a couple of days last week, transferring the office of Assistant Inspector from Mr. A. C. Patterson to Mr. A. W. McDonald, of Fleming. Mr. Huggard's friends here were pleased to see him again, and although not a frequent visitor, he was perfectly at home amongst our citizens.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather on Sunday, a large number of people gathered at the station to witness the departure of the west bound train. Mr. A. C. Patterson, who left to resume his duties as collector of customs at North Portal, had quite a busy time bidding adieu to those with whom he had lived so long and become so popular. Prof. Goggin returned to Regina by the same train, and Miss Mabel Talbot went to Wataskwan to take charge of the school there.

The Methodist Church is to be reopened next Sunday. During the past two weeks repairs and alterations have been in progress. The walls have been re-plastered, the ceiling finished in pine, and a communion altar laid down. When finished, the building will be a model of neatness and comfort. The re-opening services will be conducted by Rev. John McDougall, president of the Manitoba and North West Conference, who will preach both morning and evening. The rev. gentleman will also lecture in the Methodist Church on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Special collections will be taken.

The prairie fire which raged to the south of here last week end has been the cause of great loss to a number of settlers. The Germans, we hear have suffered heavily, and some of them got badly scorched whilst fighting the fire. Hundreds of tons of hay have been consumed by the flames. Mr. James Craig, Mr. Wm. Sides and Mr. H. Bestwick being among those who have suffered. Mr. A. M. McLane lost several stacks of wheat on the Sunbeam Farm from the same fire. The notice, as fire guardians will doubtless do their duty and find out where and how this fire originated and if possible cause the originator to make good the losses.

The Rev. John McDougall, who is announced to preach in the Methodist Church next Sunday, is stationed at Morley, where he has been laboring for the last 27 years. He is a son of the late Rev. George McDougall, the pioneer of Methodism in the N.W.T.

When Rubie Allen, the humorist and dramatic reader, left here a short time ago we were informed that he was going to be engaged getting up pieces for a new programme. It appears that he has been "otherwise engaged," and the engagement culminated in his marriage in New York city to Miss Louise C. Lee, daughter of the late Judge Lee, of Newark, N.J.

Some exceptionally fine wheat has recently been taken into Whitehead. Mr. Charles Davies, a farmer in the vicinity, took into town a bag of white Fife which he said would weigh sixty-nine pounds to the bushel, and stated that he had 1,800 bushels of it. Several of the townsmen saw it tested, and it was found to weigh sixty-eight pounds and a half to the bushel. The wheat was grown on breaking, and is large and of a beautiful color. A sample of it has been sent by Mr. Hawkes to Professor Saunders, at Ottawa.

Mr. W. Ringrose, who was so frightfully mangled whilst threshing at Pleasant Forks, succumbed to the injuries he had received before the arrival of medical assistance. It was decided that an inquest was not necessary, death being due to hemorrhage and shock. The unfortunate man was a general favorite amongst the settlers, and highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was an Englishman and a bachelor, and had been about eleven years in the country. Constable Gray, formerly stationed at Qu'Appelle, was at the scene of the accident, and rendered timely assistance.

The British farm delegates who have been viewing the country under the guidance of Mr. G. J. Cox, of the office of the Dominion Lands Commissioner, got to Winnipeg on Saturday on their return journey. These delegates have inspected the land of Manitoba, the North-West and British Columbia, and are well pleased with what they have seen. They were taken through the settlements away from the line of railway, and have given a total distance of 1,034 miles. The delegates gave some of their impressions of the tour to a Free Press reporter, and they spoke most favorably of what they had seen. Mr. Benjamin, of South Wales, said the best wheat he had seen was in the Qu'Appelle district; the best oats at Edmonton. The delegates, before separating, presented Mr. Cox, their guide, with two richly bound volumes, being H. M. Stanley's work, "In Darkest Africa," and an address.

SUPREME COURT.
The first sitting of the Supreme Court was opened at Carleton Place on the 18th inst., the Hon. Mr. Justice Wetmore presiding. Amongst those present were Mr. W. White, Q.C., of Moosemin, Mr. N. E. Hagel, Q.C., of Winnipeg, Mr. F. F. Forbes and Sheriff Murphy, of Moosemin. The prisoners in a horse stealing case, a case of interfering with the police, and a case of horse killing at Estevan were all acquitted. Three prisoners were charged with killing an ox near Oxbow. One of the prisoners was acquitted, and the other two were found guilty, but sentence was reserved. A large number of people were in town all week, many of them being witnesses in the cases before the Court.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.
The autumn meeting of the Central Assiniboia Teachers' Association was held at Qu'Appelle on Thursday and Friday last, and the sessions were attended by a large number of members of the teaching profession and others interested in the advance of education. As would be seen from the programme previously published, a number of excellent subjects had been chosen for the papers, and these were in the hands of able exponents, who handled them in such a manner as to make them both interesting and instructive. Professor Goggin, as usual, imparted considerable information, during the time he was present, on the subjects under consideration. Taken altogether the proceedings of the convention could not but prove profitable to those who attended.

On Friday evening, the Immigration Hall was well filled with those who had gathered to hear Professor Goggin lecture on "Success." A number of school children under the direction of Miss Middlemiss sang a couple of motion songs which were loudly applauded. The other musical items contributed were: song, Mr. Williams (encore); song, Mrs. Bulvey; quartette, Mrs. Bulvey, Miss McFarlane, Messrs. Fossant and Shefford; song, Mr. Williams; duet, Mrs. Bulvey and Mr. Fossant. Mr. Miller, of Fort Qu'Appelle, occupied the chair, and in calling on Mr. Goggin to deliver his lecture, said that gentleman would need no introduction from him. He had lectured in Qu'Appelle before, and that evening they might expect a repetition of the pleasure they then experienced.

Professor Goggin commenced a most interesting lecture by giving a very vivid description of a performance of a talented instrumentalist, which he followed with descriptive scenes from the lives of Wellington and Livingston. Then he asked, "How do you measure success? by effort or result?" Did they measure success by wealth, social position or power? Wealth rightly used might be productive of much good, but skill to get money made a man a miser. Every sensible man strives to get money as a means, not as an end. And so with social position and power, they carried with them the responsibility of using the power to the advantage of others, and if sought as a means for good and not as an end it was a laudable desire. Wealth, social position and power all contributed towards success, but neither separately nor together were they success from the lecturer's standpoint. The ideal man was he in whom every endowment of being was developed in harmony with every other, and each to the highest degree of which all were capable. Man was made up of body and mind, and success might be viewed from the physical and mental standpoints. The mind was the measure of the man, and the intellectual and moral powers needed training. Some men had achieved greatness in spite of physical infirmities, and a man might be an intellectual giant but remain a moral weakling. Whilst each nature must be developed, on which should the greatest stress be placed? The development of which contributed most to success? There would come a day for each of them when their last sun should send its fading light into the gathering gloom, and in that hour when the intellectual and physical failed, would not the moral nature be valued at its true worth? The lecturer then proceeded to give some excellent advice as to the choice of a calling. They should choose no calling or profession or work which would tend to debilitate or destroy their higher nature or cause them to live on a lower plane. They should choose a calling in which there was room for their powers to expand, and concentrate their powers upon it, for concentration was the secret of a triumph in the management of human affairs. No calling should be selected if not liked, for they would encounter many things which were distasteful even in a calling they did like. Thorough and careful preparation was necessary for the work decided upon, and having chosen their calling and prepared for it they should persevere till success was achieved. Character contributed largely to success, and a man's fortunes were the fruits of his character. Success must come to him who, in the right spirit, made the most of each endowment, and, like the most perfect type of man the world had ever known or would ever know, went about doing good.

The lecturer resumed his seat amid loud applause, and when it had subsided Mr. McDonald rose to move a vote of thanks to Professor Goggin, and said they all desired to follow the road that led to success but sometimes it was difficult to find it. When one man had spent years in finding the right track, and then stepped forward and showed them how to get there, as Professor Goggin had done, it could not fail to be of great assistance. The speaker was sure they had all enjoyed and appreciated the lecture, and he hoped it would not be long before they had the pleasure of hearing Professor Goggin again. Mr. G. Himmitt seconded the motion, and said that two years ago they considered it a great compliment to have Professor Goggin lecture to them. Now he belonged to them and they felt that they had a right to him, but this did not annul their thankfulness to him for the excellent lecture he had just delivered, and he (the speaker) had enjoyed it immensely. Professor Goggin in acknowledgment said it was a pleasure and a privilege to be present. It was a part of his duty to talk with teachers on educational topics, and all needed education on the line he had been speaking on that evening. On the motion of Mr. Grimmer, seconded by Mr. Marwood, a vote of thanks was passed to the home teachers who had so successfully carried out the arrangements. The singing of the National Anthem brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

MOOSOMIN.
Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, arrived here on Friday and met the various delegations from the different parts of this district. He was given a banquet in the Opera Hall in the evening, when about 200 people sat down to the festive board. Among those present were Mr. N. Boyd, M.P., Mr. Hamilton, M.L.A., Mr. J. R. Noff, M.L.A., Mr. McDonald, M.P., His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Royal. Telegrams of regret were read from Hugh J. McDonald, M.P., C. H. McIntosh, M.P., W. B. Scarth, Sheriff Murphy, and Mr. Mitchell, M.L.A. Next day he addressed an audience of about 400 people, and very much pleased his hearers at the opening of the morning meeting. An address from the Moosomin Liberal-Conservative Association, expressing confidence in the present Government and their leader, Sir John Thompson, was read by the president, Capt. Price. Mr. Foster went west accompanied by Mr. McDonald, M.P., and Mr. Boyd, M.P.

ADDRESS PRESENTED BY THE LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION OF MOOSOMIN.
To the Honorable George E. Foster, Minister of Finance.
Sir—On behalf of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Moosomin, I extend to you a hearty welcome on this your first visit to the North-West Territories; and congratulate you upon your able management of the finances of our great Dominion; while our neighbor to the south is in the midst of a financial crisis our institutions stand firm and are prosperous.

We would also express our confidence in the government of our able leader Sir John Thompson and his colleagues, believing that the past policy of the great Conservative Party has been conducive to the welfare and prosperity of Canada, and in keeping with the desires of the government to legislate in the interests of the whole people; we are pleased to notice this being carried out by the enquiries now being made. The wisdom of the government is manifest in the selection of such an able representative as yourself to visit this western country to make such enquiries of the people as will enable you to adjust the tariff in such a way and to such an extent as will be in the best interest of our common country. And we extend to you our continued confidence which will be yours and that of the government so long as you continue to legislate wisely and for the best interests of our Dominion, and we trust the country will always be governed by such able men as at present are found in the Liberal-Conservative Party and are at present at the head of affairs.

We hope your visit will be productive of great pleasure to you and of benefit to the people.
Signed on behalf of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Moosomin.
(Sd.) A. A. PRICE, President, October 21st, 1895.

BOARD OF TRADE ADDRESS.
To the Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance.

HON. AND DEAR SIR—We are pleased to have this opportunity of laying before you our firm opinions as to the requirements and necessities of the settlers in this district. This portion of the Territories being totally dependent on agricultural pursuits and products, it is therefore of vital necessity that the agriculturist should succeed. We are firmly impressed with the fact that the necessities of the producing farmers cost too much, owing to the want of competition, through combines existing, which are sheltered under the high tariff. These combines exist in implements, binder twine, lumber, nails, wire fencing, coal oil and many other of the necessities of the agriculturist. The excessive freight rates charged by the railway on the above articles and others of necessity to the farmer, add greatly to the burden, the disadvantages of which will in the near future be increased through the scanty wood fuel supply of the farmer being now nearly exhausted and settlers will soon be obliged to purchase coal for winter use. It seems to us to be a great injustice that coal from Letbridge is hauled to Winnipeg, 220 miles further east, and there sold for $1.25 per ton less in favor of the long haul. It is of the greatest importance that the settlers should in this severe climate have fuel as low in price as possible. We would beg to impress upon you the advisability of reducing the duty upon such articles as before enumerated, and of using your influence with the railway company to secure a material reduction in freight rates on such articles as coal, fencing, lumber and building material generally, and also a lower export rate on our agricultural products. We believe that this course would tend to remove the great discontent which now undoubtedly exists, and would encourage interest among the farmers to continue their struggles for success.

Signed on behalf of the Board of Trade,
W. H. BARTON, President,
T. H. CROSS, Secretary.
